PROFILE

Detail-oriented Web Developer with a knack for conceptualizing and delivering user friendly solutions effectively and efficiently. Developed a start-up tech consulting company with a flair for creating elegant results in the least amount of time. Love the aspect of seeing code work before my eyes as well as watching the long-term prospect of applications develop.

PROJECTS

TeachersforKorea

- An end to end recruiting website that helps teachers, private and public schools connect with each other by using a recruiting agency for teachers.
